What is FCBM?

Founded: 1972

Scope: National (India)

www.fcbm.org

FCBM was founded in 1972 when the corrugated packaging industry in India was largely unorganized, with many small units spread across the country. Leading manufacturers from different regions came together to form regional associations, creating collective strength and collaboration within the industry.

The success of the national body encouraged more regions to establish their own associations under the FCBM federation. Over time, this evolved into a two-tier structure, where regional associations represent local interests while FCBM represents the industry at the national level.

Today, regional chapters span across India, working together to strengthen the industry while addressing both regional and national concerns.

What is ICCA?

Founded: 1961

Scope: International

www.iccanet.org

The International Corrugated Case Association (ICCA) was formed in 1961. Its purpose is to provide member services and activities that can be most effectively conducted by an international organization. The services support and enhance the work of the association members and contribute to the well-being of the worldwide corrugated packaging industry.

Global Summit

Since 1961, ICCA has sponsored a biennial Management Conference to allow worldwide corrugated industry executives to come together and share information, in a legal manner, on appropriate issues.

ICCA gathers, compiles and distributes corrugated shipment/production data. This is the most authoritative reflection of worldwide corrugated industry data.

International Guidelines

As certain issues in the corrugated industry span over country borders and across continents, ICCA issues guidelines to help its members implement specific programs. One example is the adoption of guidelines for members to institute a global recycling symbol.

What is WCO?

Founded: 2000

Scope: International

www.wco-containerboard.org

Following a meeting of 40 companies in New Orleans, Louisiana, the World Containerboard Organisation (WCO) was established to address the growing need for a broader association capable of representing the global interests of the containerboard industry.

The World Containerboard Organisation plays a crucial role in fostering collaboration and communication within the industry, supporting its members in navigating challenges and capitalising on opportunities in a rapidly evolving global market and packaging sector.

WCO's membership comprises containerboard producers from every continent. This diverse representation enables the organisation to serve as a key source of information (providing statistics and market intelligence as well) as well as a strong advocate for the global containerboard manufacturing community.
